

Arlington Park Ready For Opening Next Thursday

POSTPONED
On account of the heavy rains and the necessity of getting the track in condition, the opening of Arlington Park is postponed until Thursday, Oct. 13.

With its immense grandstand ready to seat 18,000 race fans, with stable room for 1,200 horses, and those stables filling rapidly with a restaurant and lunch room on the main floor under the stand and with hundreds of betting windows ready to take care of those who think they can pick the winners, and with a thousand and one other details complete or rapidly nearing completion, Arlington Park, one of the premier race tracks of America, is ready for the opening of the new track which will mark the opening of the new season and the sixteen day fall meeting which will close on October 30.

Special trains on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad will carry the Chicago race crowd to the track while heroic efforts are being made to get the huge parking space in shape for those who come by auto. Motor busses connecting with the various electric lines will also deliver people direct to the track. Chicago society is paying particular attention to opening day as Charity in the form of the Illinois Children Home and Aid Society, will benefit largely from the receipts of that day and a large outpouring of society folk from Chicago and the North Shore is assured. Workmen have been working night and day to have the long concrete leading platform ready at the railroad where the special race trains will unload their passengers. A subway has been built underneath the tracks so that people detouring from north bound trains will not have to cross the tracks to get to the stands. A covered walk leads from the railroad to the grandstand and every effort has been made to look after the welfare of the public. The huge stand is divided into three sections, the club house section, the intermediate section and the regular grandstand section. Tiers of boxes stretch along the entire front of the stand and between the boxes and the track is a wide terraced section which will be greatly improved next year.

Hundreds of betting windows are provided in convenient sections of the stand where the occupants of the various sections will not have to go far in order to place their bets on their favorite signs, announce whether bets for "straight," "place" or "show" are accepted at the various windows and also what amounts may be placed at each window. Between the stand and the race track is located the paddock where the horses are saddled and walked around preparatory to a race. The jockeys have their quarters in a building at the paddock while at each end of the enclosure is a small grandstand where a person may be seated while looking over the appearance and general form of the horse which is to carry his hopes and his bank roll in the coming race. The horses enter the track from the paddock by way of a subway underneath the stand.

To the west of grand stand and paddock stretches row upon row of stables in which are housed some of the best race horses of the country and for the snap of the barrier at the opening of a race of America's greatest race tracks, an army of workmen are working furiously to have things in as good shape as possible for the opening of the meeting. The rainy weather of the past two weeks has greatly hindered the work of completing the new track yet so efficient and well organized is the work that opening day will find things in a surprisingly finished condition even up to some of the small details.

With two complete tracks, one within the other the Arlington Park course offers something new in the way of race tracks.

The bad weather has been hard on the track and the going in the early days of the meeting will be heavy if the weather man doesn't turn off the water and give a few days of wind and sunshine to dry out the track.

It is hard to conceive the immensity of the project which has transformed the oat fields, corn fields and meadows into one of the greatest race courses in the country in the short space of a few months, but a visit to the new track a look at the magnitude of the proposition and one is convinced that Arlington Park located as it is close to Chicago, with ideal railroad and paved road connections, with its 1,200 acres of rolling land situated on one of the most easily accessible spots in the Chicago territory, is destined to become when completed, one of the greatest racing and recreation centers of the country.

CHARGE LOCAL MAN WITH THEFT OF CATTLE

Farmers in the immediate vicinity of the Village of Palatine, west of the Wilke Road have been reporting the loss of cows and hay. The thieves were confined to places within the three mile radius of the Wolff stock farm. With the disappearance of a cow owned by Mrs. Ada Pratt, who resides upon the former Helms farm and the examination of the tracks across the fields, suspicion rested upon the occupant of the Wolff farm. Warrants were sworn out by Mrs. Pratt and Mr. Underwood. Attempts to arrest the man Wednesday night were not successful. Early Thursday morning, officer Meyer of the county police and also constable, found his man and brought him to Palatine.

Jno. Ellinghausen, residing upon the Anderson farm on Baldwin Road was the first farmer to miss a cow. Mr. Underwood, who has a small farm on Chicago Ave. was No. 2; then followed the disappearance of the animal belonging to Mrs. Pratt. Neighbors of the team had the advantage in weight and experience, they were outplayed in many parts of the game by the lighter Bensenville team.

Bensenville received the opening kick off on their 30 yard line, and returned it 10 yards. Five yards were gained by Earhart around right end, with good interference. Then a pass, Earhart to Rasmussen was good for another 10, and first downs. On the next attempt Bensenville was forced to punt, but soon received the ball again on a punt by Heights. And so it went back and forth, with neither team seriously threatening the opponent's goal for most of the time. Bensenville made first downs four times, while the Heights team made it six times. Bensenville gained in the punts, and occasionally with a pass, while the Heights team made use of their weight in line bucks and off-tackle plays.

In the last few minutes of the game a rolling punt brought the play in the shadow of the Bensenville goal. A short punt out from the danger region enabled Heights to get back again with a punting distance by means of a forward pass. The runner was forced out on the three yard line. With first down and about three yards to go, two minutes of play remaining, the Heights team were set back twelve yards in three attempts. In the final play, the last thirty seconds of the game, one more pass was successful, and the receiver skidded across the goal line for the only and deciding score. It was a close and interesting game. For Bensenville, the work of Rasmussen and Gutnick in the line was outstanding, along with the passing and punting of Earhart. For the visitors Bolte was the best ball carrier.

Palatine Hatchery Leases the Wheeling Farms for 5 Years

Mr. and Mrs. A. Paltz, proprietor of the Sunnycroft Poultry Farm, at Palatine have leased for a period of five years the Wheeling Farms establishment on Dundee road, east of Wheeling. The new proprietors will take over the establishment Oct. 17. Mr. Balling, who built up the business from practically nothing until it has reached large proportions, has been wanting to retire from active management for some time. He has had considerable business relations with Mr. and Mrs. Paltz marketing their quality chicks. He has often urged them to start a hatchery upon his property or to lease the entire business. Until now Mr. and Mrs. Paltz have not found their way clear to taking over the business of the Wheeling Farms, which includes a lot of other things aside from the raising of chicks, but they have now secured the assistance of Mr. Paltz brother, Harry, who will move here from Syracuse, New York and act as manager of the Wheeling Farms establishment. That trade name will be retained.

It is the plan of the new proprietors to establish a hatchery at Wheeling not later than next year, and perhaps the coming winter. Although they have doubled their chick capacity within a year, their chick capacity for quality chicks is growing so fast that before the season opens they have received advance orders for fifty per cent of their output for the coming season.

Sunnycroft Poultry Farm has won a reputation for the quality of chicks sold and the business has just naturally kept growing, some times faster than the proprietors desire. Mr. Paltz alone could not handle it, but with Mrs. Paltz as chief assistant and boss they make a team that is bringing success. The hours are often long and early as hatching chicks will not wait for daylight. With the assistance of his brother, Mr. Paltz believes that he is opening a new market for his chicks and a new year business that promises to be of service to the North Shore people who are coming this way in increasing numbers for farm products.

Boy Scouts Have Big Time at S. Dak.- Northwestern Game

If you are the dad of a boy scout and were not able to accompany him to the football game last Saturday between Northwestern and South Dakota, you missed a lot. There is something about the foot ball warriors that appeals to the young boys. The college lads, trained to the 'nth degree represent obedience to rules and orders of their superiors, which is the same thing that the boy scouts are learned to do.

The game was too much one-sided to be exciting, but the boys had a good time cheering the losing side, and hoping against hope that they would be able to score at crucial moments.

Boy Scout Circus Saturday

As every scout in the future wall of our country removes his khaki uniform and prepares to say his "Come I lay me" the request that comes after "Bless Mamma and Bless Papa" is, "Please God, give us sunshine for our Circus Saturday. Gee just think of the good disposition that will be drenched, all the good times that will be all wet and Chief White Father might get his moccasins damp. Thank you, Amen."

Twenty Lots Offered At Absolute Auction

There were a number of buyers of lots at the auction held in Arlington Heights two weeks ago, who made a lot of money by reselling their purchase since that auction. The prices paid for some of those lots were so low that the new owners have had plenty of opportunities to resell them at advanced figures.

There will be an equal number of people who will have a like opportunity at an auction sale of lots to be conducted next Saturday afternoon at Arlington Park addition to Arlington Heights. These lots are southwest of the race track and only a few blocks from the business section of Arlington Heights. A new Ford car and $300 in cash prizes will be given away. Full details are to be found upon page two of this edition.

Mothers-Daughters To Attend Lecture

The Arlington Heights Mother's Club with the assistance of Miss Jackson, the community nurse has secured Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Roloff of the Illinois State Hygiene service who will lecture before that body and the mothers and daughters of 'teen age at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium next Wednesday evening. This is a lecture that should not be missed by any mother or daughter. The title of the lecture is "The Adolescent Girl."

Auto Races Return To Palatine Sunday

The two auto race meetings held recently at the Dean track at Palatine have furnished spectators with a lot of thrills in spills and hairbreath finishes. Fans will have another opportunity Sunday to see the same crowd of drivers in competition. Rain caused part of the races at the last meet to be postponed, but with good weather promised for this Sunday, the Lake Shore Racing Association promises a whirlwind finish. Admission is $1.00 including grand stand seat.

Lotus Studio Again Gives to Arlington Heights Photo Shop

Donald R. Hitchcock recently made alterations in his home on South Highland street and opened his studio. He says that with his new accommodations he is better prepared to handle studio work than in the past years when he was located down town. He has installed equipment and has transacted considerable business. The location may be away from the business district, but there are any number of people who find their way down on south street. He has had many years experience and is now permanently located in the trade. The former trade name, "The Lotus Studio" is retained.

ALGONQUIN ROAD PAVING GETS A BOOST

Algonquin road pavement is being strongly advocated by the city end of that thoroughfare. The claim is advanced that the Northwest highway cannot be widened to 40 ft. unless some other outlet into the northwest is found for the motor traffic. Algonquin road would serve that purpose. The distance between these highways is not great, being only 2 1/2 miles at Arlington Heights and three miles at Palatine.

Representatives of about 100 civic and commercial organizations on the northwest side forwarded to the county board resolutions unanimously adopted urging the opening and paving of Avondale avenue from Jefferson Park to Algonquin so that the city can close the Northwest highway for the widening of that artery.

The resolutions were adopted at a meeting in the Jefferson Park National bank Monday night under the auspices of the executive committee of the Avondale Avenue Boosters' association headed by Ald. Thomas J. Bowler of the 41st ward. Representatives of the county board were present and said that Anton Cermak, president of the board, had authorized the statement that the county commissioners would co-operate in pushing the improvement project.

Ordinance Now in Council

An ordinance for widening the Northwest highway is now before the Chicago city council with good prospects that the city will soon undertake the work of making this roadway a wider thoroughfare, the resolution points out. Before the city can start, however, some other outlet for motor traffic must be provided.

Avondale avenue is now open and paved much of the way beyond Jefferson park, the resolution continues, and by opening it all the way and widening it into a forty-foot highway it can be made to connect with Algonquin trail, thus providing an excellent motor connection with other automobile routes in the northwest section of the county.

The proposal to open and widen Avondale avenue from Jefferson park into the loop is now being studied by the Chicago Plan Commission and the board of local improvements. It was pointed out that the tentative plans of these two bodies call for an elevated highway on a level with the Chicago & North Western tracks as far out as Jefferson park. Hence, if the county would open and widen Avondale avenue on a street level beyond Jefferson park such an opening would hook up directly with the plans of the city.

The northwest highway is now so congested that immediate action in widening it is necessary, the commissioners are told in the resolution. In order to do that work the city will have to close the highway. When that time comes there must be another artery ready.

Lend Palatine Atmosphere to New Arlington Track

Its Arlington Park and its going to have an Arlington Heights handicap on the opening day's card, but just the same a Palatine visitor to the track can feel right at home on opening day for he'll be in his own township, and near the main gate he'll probably see an old and familiar figure in the person of Bill Garmis, Palatine popular former police captain. Bill looks just the same as ever, he's just as genial and friendly as in the old days when he was on the Palatine force and he's in uniform and all, so anyone who associated officer Bill with Palatine should feel right at home, only when he get up close and look at Bill's new star it reads, Arlington Heights. You realize that it's the same old Bill all right, but that he's on a new job, and we've heard it rumored that the pay check is better than the old one. Good luck Bill even if your star does look different and bears a different name, and if a visitor should happen to have business down under the grand stand and looked over toward the blacksmith shop, he'd see another familiar figure in the fellow swinging the hammer in his left mit and running the same old cheerful welcome, yes, our old friend, August Hackbarth, who has been putting in a busy summer helping put the new race track on the map by presiding over the destiny of the blacksmith shop at the track. No, August isn't shoeing horses. He's doing the general work connected with the construction of the big plant and August is as proud of the way that new plant is getting into shape as are the promoters themselves. August says that he's been too busy to get many tips yet on the races and that he doesn't believe that he'll be "out in front" in a box seat on opening day, because he might cause too much excitement by such a sudden advance in life. Like Bill he's the same old August, only transplanted into a new environment and with Bill he adds a Palatine atmosphere to the new track, located in Palatine, but named Arlington Heights Race Track. But between good friends and good fellows what's in a name?

Laborer at Barrington Kills Self by Gas

Henry E. McNally, a concrete mixer employed on the construction of the Landover-Pohlman building at Barrington committed suicide Sunday night by inhaling gas in the kitchen of the residence of Forrest Beaumont, Waverly Rd. and Prospect Ave., where he roomed.

An inquest held at E. M. Blocks' by Dr. J. L. Taylor of Libertyville Lake county coroner, Monday afternoon brought in a verdict of death by "inhalation of illuminating gas self-administered with suicide intent."

Stumbles Over Body
McNally's body was found by Forrest Beaumont shortly before midnight when he returned home from the farm of his father in law Henry Rogman near Cary, where he had spent Sunday. He entered the kitchen and stumbled over the body, falling to the floor. He switched on the light and saw McNally stretched out on his back with his head near the stove. The room was filled with gas. All the stove burners were open. Beaumont ran to the home of Francis J. Green, a neighbor, and the two returning, notified Chief of Police Peters. McNally evidently had been dead several hours.

McNally was a man of mystery to his associates. He rarely discussed his personal affairs and even to Mr. and Mrs. Beaumont, with whom he lived for three years in Elgin and in Barrington, he was extremely uncommunicative. He seldom received letters and those he did receive he destroyed. His reputation, however, was of the best. He worked steadily and possessed no bad habits, according to the testimony of his acquaintances. He is said to have served in the Canadian army during the war.

Laudermilk Opens New Arlington Park Development

Laudermilk Lead Parade Arlington Park, New Sub.

Bert H. Laudermilk, President of the Laudermilk Realty Association of Chicago, led the way to Arlington Heights in a big parade of automobiles from his Chicago office to Arlington Park, his new subdivision on the Northwest Highway at Wilke Road, yesterday.

Approximately 500 people attended the opening of this new development, journeying from the loop in almost 100 cars under escort of Chicago motorcycle police and forming a procession a mile in length.

It was one of the most impressive openings ever held by a subdivision and the activity that got underway as soon as the parade arrived on the property seems to prove that Laudermilk's reputation as a man of action is based on solid facts. Figures of the amount of business done on opening day were not available at the time we went to press but it is certain that a tremendous day's business was transacted and that there is a big demand for these sites so close to the new C. & N. W. station and race track.

Everyone on Laudermilk's property was enthusiastic yesterday, and much praise was heard not only of the property in Arlington Park but of the town as a whole. Many people who had not been before expressed surprise and voiced their opinions that Arlington Heights was the most charming and promising suburb they had ever seen. Many of the sales people stated that Laudermilk's new subdivision is in the best location from every standpoint of any they had ever been engaged in selling.

The subdivision was in gala attire for the event, being generously decorated with banners and pennants in the Laudermilk gold and blue colors. A generous lunch was served to everyone present as a treat at the expense of Mr. Laudermilk.

Palatine "Gunman" Wins Honors at Season Last Shoot

Walter Witt, a member of the Palatine Gun Club, will soon be wearing a new watch, a prize which was obtained last Sunday at the last shoot of the Illinois Trap Shooting League, composed of six gun clubs in Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin. The shoot Sunday was held at Fox Lake for the purpose of settling the tie that existed between three teams, Palatine, Barrington and Waukegan. Barrington was the winner and is given first place, Palatine is second and Waukegan is third. The scores were 235, 224, and 214 respectively. The Palatine team members were Walter Witt, Robt. Mosser, John Markham, Stanley Chidley and Walter Semne. Other members who shot were Wm. Heimes and Wm. Roesser. Clubs represented in the league in addition to the above three are Kenosha, Fox Lake and Algonquin.

This shoot ends the season. The annual meeting will be held sometime in January. The league has room for two or three more clubs and will be glad to hear from any towns who are interested in this sport.

Mr. Witt made a score of 48 birds out of 50 at Fox Lake, but that score was not unusual for him. He likewise recently won honors at the All American shoot in Ohio. He is in the receipt of the following letter assuring him that the prize watch is on the way.

Waukegan, Ill., Oct. 2, 1927
Walter Witt, Palatine, Ill.

Dear Mr. Witt—Will drop you a line to let you know that you will be sent a watch by the League properly engraved, as winner of the shoot at Fox Lake today. You surely made a fine score for a day of this kind, good, of course, for any day, but especially good when the weather conditions of today are considered. Hoping that your good luck continues, I am sincerely yours, J. J. Dietmeyer, Secretary.

Woman's Club Praises Activities Of Chief Skoog

The Arlington Heights Woman's Club went on record at their meeting Wednesday favoring law enforcement and in a resolution published below expressed their approval of the action of Chief Skoog in raiding "Gordon's Place." The resolution follows:

We, the members of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club, wish to express publicly our approval of Chief of Police Skoog's action in raiding the place Sunday night where liquor was sold and other crimes committed. It is our earnest desire that he continue the good work until our city is entirely rid of places of that kind. We would suggest that the punishment inflicted in such cases be imprisonment as well as fine. Losing money means very little to such offenders.

Signed
Arlington Heights Woman's Club

Right at the time when the eyes of the nation are turned toward Arlington Heights because of the lure Arlington Park race track and recreation center soon to be opened here, and at the time when the great Avondale super-highway is assured, comes the announcement that the Bert H. Laudermilk Realty Association is opening a fine subdivision within the corporate limits of Arlington Heights, on the Northwest Highway.

The property has 1300 feet of frontage on the Highway and contains in all 152 acres. It consists of two parcels purchased recently from Nelson Young and William C. Niebuhr. The location, at the northeast corner of the Highway and Wilke Road, is directly across the street from the wonderful new race track and playground, and the new Arlington Park station of the Chicago & North Western Ry., now under construction.

We are glad to welcome Bert Laudermilk to Arlington Heights. He has long been one of the foremost real estate operators in the Northwest suburban area and in the last four years has made an enviable record for himself, at the same time doing much to call the attention of the general public to the superior features of the suburbs in this direction. During that time Mr. Laudermilk has been identified with the successful promotion of about fifty fine subdivisions—all in the Northwest district.

Laudermilk's Arlington Park property is the eighth to be put on the market by his firm since the first of this year and it is considered by the men selling it as the finest piece they have ever offered. It is typical, too, of the high standards of excellence required of Laudermilk properties.

A considerable portion of the subdivision has been set aside by the Zoning Board for apartment buildings with restrictions for fireproof construction. Both apartment and residential units have a minimum front stage of fifty feet, allowing ample space for lawns. Single family homes have a minimum restriction of $6,000.

Sidewalks have been laid thru-out the entire tract and sewer and water have been petitioned for, to be installed as soon as authorities can let the contracts.

One of the artistic and decorative features of Arlington Park is the erection of permanent street arches, twelve feet in height, which adorn each street entrance on the Northwest Highway.

Frontage on the Highway and along Wilke Road and Oakton Street have been zoned for business sites. In recent weeks there has been much interest in business frontage here, particularly that on the Northwest Highway.

A group of lots has already been sold to Otto Weisjohn, of Park Ridge who is preparing to erect about ten buildings on the property. The Laudermilk Realty Association also has erected their permanent office building in Arlington Park, a concrete and stucco building of modified Spanish architecture designed by architects Rowe, Dillard and Rowe.

Evangelical People Find Opportunity in Randhill Cemetery

The Evangelical section of Rand Hill cemetery was officially opened Sunday, Sept. 25, by Rev. Voeks, pastor of the St. Paul's church of Palatine, when he delivered a short address, which he printed upon page three of this issue.

While the Palatine congregation has officially reserved Willowmere section, it is a reality designed for the family of members of that denomination no matter in what town they may reside. Rev. Voeks in his talk urged that the congregation from the neighboring towns participate in the opportunity to secure a perpetual home for the loved ones who pass on. The perpetual care feature of this cemetery is what appeals to many of the local people who are purchasing lots.

Rand Hill Park Cemetery is located upon Rand road north of Arlington Heights and east of Palatine. Three sections are now open. One is reserved for masons and their families; another for the Evangelical denomination and the third is nonsectarian. Others sections will be opened later.

Herald's Prize Baby Cup Displayed In State Bank

Have you noticed the large loving cup on display in one of the windows of the State Bank of Palatine? It is a rather fine cup and it was won in the Better Baby contest by a very fine baby, Miss Louise Stroker, the daughter of the assistant cashier of that bank. The cup was donated by the Cook County Herald and is the first of such cups that will be given each year by that newspaper through the Cook County Department of Health. Dr. Wright has accepted the offer of this paper and such cups will be held next year.

Weekly News Of Activity In The Arlington Heights H. S.

The Arlington Heights football team plays its third game of the season, and its first home game, Saturday, October 8, on the local high school lot, Gurnee of Warren township will provide the opposition. They are bringing up two full teams to play a double header. Their light weights will meet the Arlington Heights lights at 1 o'clock, this contest to be followed immediately by the regular teams. The tentative time of the main game is 2:45 o'clock.

It will be remembered that Gurnee defeated the locals twice last year and this fact will keep the Heights team from any over-confidence they might possess. They expect a hard battle and are preparing to give their best from the time of opening to the close of the game.

Last week the coaches tried to drill into the team the fact that the Bensenville team was a smart scrappy little eleven but the cockiness couldn't be removed. Consequently the game was a mixup from start to finish. None of the team played true to the form of their capability and did not get going until the final quarter. A last minute spurt with the entire squad working together resulted in the ball being carried the length of the field on short gains for a touchdown. This was taken away by the referee, the team suffering a penalty. They once again took the ball over to goal line finishing with a score of 6-0 just as the gun fired. Honest hard work on the field this week shows an attitude of seriousness on the part of the boys in anticipation of Saturday's game. They are out to fight and win.

Gurnee is bringing a large corps of rooters for Saturday's game and it is hoped that there will be a huge gathering of enthusiastic fans cheering the Heights team. In order that the season on the home field be properly introduced a pep session is to be held Friday afternoon at the high school.

'WHAT IS SCOUTING?'

The Tenderfoot

No chain is stronger than its weakest link. The weakest link in the Scouting organization is the tenderfoot perhaps because he is the infant of the family. In as much as the infant must be taught to walk and talk just so the tenderfoot in Scouting must be taught.

In the present organization of the North West Suburban Council the boy must be at least 12 years of age before he can become a Scout. However, we expect to adopt another organization that will take care of boys of pre-Scout age. This will train boys to be good scouts before they are old enough to join the original organization.

To become a Tenderfoot the first thing a boy must do is to learn the Scout Laws, motto, sign, salute, and the significance of a badge. Second, he must know the composition and history of the Flag of the United States and the customary forms of respect due to it. Third, he must be able to tie a designated number of knots.

The Scout Laws Are

1. A Scout is Trustworthy. A Scout's honor is to be trusted. If he were to violate his honor by telling a lie or by cheating, or by not doing exactly a given task, when trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his badge.

2. A Scout is loyal. Loyal to his Scout leaders, his home, school and country.

3. A Scout is helpful. He must do at least one good turn daily.

4. A Scout is friendly. He is a friend to all and a brother to all other Scouts.

5. A Scout is Courteous. Especially consideration due all women, children and old people. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

6. A Scout is kind. He is a friend to animals.

7. A Scout is obedient. He obeys all duly constituted authorities.

8. A Scout is cheerful. He smiles whenever he can. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best of his opportunities.

9. A Scout is thrifty. He may work for pay, but he must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns. A Scout absolutely can not accept money for tasks done while he is wearing his Scout uniform.

10. A Scout is brave. He is unflinching in moments of danger. He is cool of head in a crisis.

11. A Scout is clean. Morally and mentally.

12. A Scout is reverent. He is reverent to God. Faithful to his own religious duties and respectful of other peoples religion and customs.

The Scout Motto is "Be Prepared."

The Scout Salute is rendered by raising the right hand with the fingers held as in the Scout Sign, three fingers up, palm out and thumb resting on the little finger nail, to the forehead, or to the brim of the hat, palm turned to the left, fingers being in front of the corner of the eye, and the forearm making an angle of forty-five degrees with the horizontal. The Scout salute is always rendered with the right hand.

Information regarding the Flag is given him in the Scout manual. Also all instructions on knots.

Here's a tip for the Scout father. Try tying the knots your son is required to know before he can join the organization. The square knot, sheet-bow, bow-line, fisherman's knot, sheep shank, slip, clove hitch, timber hitch, carrick bend, Miller's Knot, Rope Halters, pipe hitch, barrel hitch, girth hitch, binder twine bend, and hitching tie. About the time a father gets thru all of that he will begin to think it's not all "kid stuff" or monkey business after all.

Arlington Heights Woman's Club Hold First Meet of Year

The Arlington Heights Woman's Club met Wednesday, October 5, for the first session of the year.

The president, Mrs. W. W. Guild in the chair. The business reports of committees, summer work of welfare committee occupied the usual order for that feature of the program. Kindergarten report was indicative of a fall class.

The welfare report showed the chairman, Mrs. Parker has not been inactive during the vacation. All the reports were hopeful for the work of the club the coming year.

Mrs. Daniels who was to have charge of the program was unable to be present on account of illness in the family.

The program by members, vacation experiences was entertainingly presented by Mrs. H. B. Caspers, who gave a delightful experience and activities of herself and Winchester and his friend Howard Brown at the Castle's summer home at Northport, Michigan. Mrs. C. E. Lorenzen who took Mrs. Daniels place as leader, gave a pleasing account of her extended trip in the great northwest and of her visit to Mrs. Rose Cooley, who was well known to older residents.

Mrs. Wichman gave a most enthusiastic account of her trip and in California; of the meeting of old friends and especially a racey description of her experiences as a mountain climber. Other members present gave short sketches of their summer trips and outings. So much interest was awakened in these delightful summer experiences and the time passed so swiftly the music number on the program had to be omitted.

Mrs. Crowley, who has done such good work in Red Cross service, was continued in charge of that committee again. Her report was especially satisfactory.

The attendance was good, about 25 members being present and altogether an encouraging initial session.

Meetings will be held in the home of Mrs. S. C. Hodgkins in North Dunton Avenue until further notice is given.

Next meeting of the club October 19. Program, Child Welfare and Public Welfare.—Mrs. G. L. Parker, leading music.

THE CARE ESSENTIAL

THE final care of one so long loved, so endeared and so close to our hearts should be indeed as tender, thoughtful and thorough as in all the time before. It is more than appropriate, more than a custom and a duty. It is sacred. The final care should be placed in trustful hands of character; and where sympathy and understanding ability combine with every high quality of equipment essential to so serve, with every best care attending.

We furnish service that way, with all of that in mind

Address of Rev. Voeks, Pastor of St. Paul's Church, Delivered at Randhill Park Cemetery Sept. 25

When the Willowmere Section was Formally Set Aside by the Cemetery Association for the Evangelical Synod of North America.

"With solemn thought and feelings, we gather here this day to commemorate the opening of the Evangelical section of this cemetery that has been set aside for the burial of the dead of the Evangelical church, not of one congregation, but of the Evangelical Synod of N. A.

"The dedication of this cemetery, as I understand it, is to take place later, but the Randhill Park Cemetery Association is, this day, setting aside the Willowmere Section for the exclusive use of the Evangelical denomination. That is a great thing for the church, particularly for our Palatine people. We have the use of the cemetery, with perpetual upkeep and a very good location. It is a source of joy that we may call this place our cemetery, and hope that the Evangelical churches of the vicinity will avail themselves of the opportunity to secure lots in this beautiful section. If we can do anything to help support the cemetery association, we will be glad to do so.

"I think I speak in the interest of all members of the Evangelical denomination, and feel confident that we, as a church, have received a great benefit. We can all be glad and thankful that we have a fine cemetery that is good for burial, not only for a year, or a few years, but for ever, and it will always be a respectable place where friends and relatives love to come and visit the graves of their beloved dead.

"Before we go away from here, it behooves us that we will bow our heads in prayer. Let us call upon God at this hour.

"Our Heavenly Father: We thank Thee for what Thou has done for us, and pray that Thou will keep us and strengthen us until death. We pray Thee to grant that this cemetery may be a place where folks always come with the assurance of eternal life and the hope of resurrection and where the tears and griefs and pains may be softened by the hopeful assurance of Thy holy word. We ask it all in the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Amen."

Business Man of 25 Years Age Finds Palatine Has Grown

Mr. Pahl, a harness maker, who left Palatine 25 years ago, returned early this week to give Palatine the "once over." He was in business here from 1886 to 1902. His old place of business is now more of a radio shop than a harness establishment, but he enjoyed telling his 16 year old son who accompanied him, reminiscences of the old days. At one time a meat market occupied the lower floor and a temperance hall was above. Mr. Pahl later raised the roof and changed the hall into a flat. Mr. Pahl was able to find a few of his old friends, but few of them recognized him.

MT. PROSPECT

The Village Board held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening with all present and our regular mayor in the chair. The clerk read the previous minutes which were so approved, the treasurer's report was read and placed on file. The finance committee reported on the bills and they were then ordered paid.

The Board purchased a new motorcycle for our officer. This gives officer Kable an equipment which will enable him to be more efficient.

Various committees made their reports and from these reports it may be said that we are going along in first class shape. We are indeed happy that we can say this and hope to continue this way.

The Board of Local Improvements also held a session on Tuesday evening, at which they passed several important resolutions and adjourned to meet Monday, Oct. 10, 1927, at 8 p. m. to open and consider bids for sidewalks in Centralwood subdivision.

Two new building permits were issued this week both to be built in Busse Eastern Addition, on William street.

The citizens, contractors and everyone who may want to do work in the streets and alleys of Mt. Prospect had better acquaint themselves with Ordinance No. 5, which provides that a permit must be secured before such work can be started and provide a penalty of from $5.00 to $200.00 for each offense. We have a wonderful street system, let us keep it this way and let us all co-operate to this end.

Many of our residents will remember Mrs. Khor, who resided in the Fred Kreuger house some time ago. We have been informed that she passed to her Eternal rest on Tuesday in her home in Chicago. Our sympathy to the bereaved husband and children.

It is hard to say that we have gotten over the celebration, but its success has made every one feel as though Mt. Prospect can accomplish Herculean tasks if we so desire. Cooperation wins.

Credit must be given our merchants for the window displays they had last week. Everyone was novel in some way or other. We are proud of them and they should be supported by every resident of our village. In other words let us practice what we preach "Trade at home" support Mt. Prospect.

The Mount Prospect Woman's Club met on Wednesday evening, September 28, at the public school house, with all officers and a good percentage of the membership present. The members had the pleasure of having Mr. Landane executive of the Boy Scouts of this district speak to them. Mr. Landane briefly outlined the ideals and standards for which this immense organization of boys and youths stands. His talking to the mothers of the boys direct, will give a better understanding of what the word "Boy Scout" does signify.

The Bunco Club had a good time at the home of Mrs. Frank Fleisch on Monday evening, October 3.

On Thursday, September 29, Mrs. Jahnke celebrated her birthday by inviting some eighteen ladies for a one o'clock dinner. Bunco was played during the afternoon.

Another birthday party took place at the home of Mrs. Knosp on Tuesday afternoon, October 4, with fourteen ladies present. Bunco was played and Mrs. Israel had the honor of carrying home the first prize. To both of these ladies we wish continued health and many happy birthdays to come.

Miss M. McGrath, teacher of the public school on Seeger road, Elk Grove, is now a resident of Mount Prospect. She is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pankonin.

EAST MAINE

Rain may put a stop to many a carefully planned affair but it goes on regardless of rain or shine. At any rate Sunday's occasional rain storms failed to spoil the good time of the relatives and friends of Mrs. Henry Jaacks who came to help her celebrate her birthday. A very pleasant time is reported by all present.

The quarterly meeting of St. Matthews Congregation will be held Sunday, October 9, immediately following services. No services here October 16, for the congregation has been invited to help celebrate the annual Mission festival of Rev. Heidtke's congregation, Jerusalem church, at Morton Grove. Services there will be in English at 10 o'clock and German at 2:30.

Some one once made the remark, "Every time St. Matthews Ladies' Aid gives a bunco party it is sure to rain." This statement was all too true for showers greeted the bunco players both Friday and Saturday nights. But inside the hall all was bright and gay and the weather was forgotten while the merry game went on. There were close to two score of prizes given away each night to lucky winners but those who did not win a prize, were they dissatisfied? No, indeed for after partaking of the delicious sandwiches and cake served by the illustrious ladies who could be other than in a happy frame of mind? The party was quite successful and the ladies appreciated the visitors from neighboring towns and are well pleased with the outcome.

Sunday's rain not only spoiled the ball game between the Evans-ton Elks (colored) and the home team, but it also brought to a close the 1927 baseball season for East Maine. It was a successful season too. Of 24 games scheduled throughout the season, 13 were victories for the East Maine boys, 5 were defeats and 6 games were postponed or called off due to bad weather or similar reasons. The team this year was better and stronger than ever before and had the addition of several new players from neighboring communities who were attracted by the true sports-manship and jolly good nature of our fellows. The enthusiastic following of fans also added to the pep of the players and thus the games were always enjoyed.

The tickets for the movie to be sponsored by St. Matthews choir at the school hall Friday evening, October 14, are out and selling at 35c for adults and 20c for children. But even if you haven't been approached to buy a ticket come up to the hall Oct. 14, and you will see an evening's entertainment which will be not only interesting and amusing but educational as well. "The Man Without a Country," will be a feature picture shown, which is taken from the story of the same name written by Hale. Pause just for an instant to consider just what that title means, you can all proudly call our great America "your" country, but the poor man in the story who had no country, come and see why such a misfortune was his. Then as a lighter type of picture, a "Mutt and Jeff" comedy will be shown and also a color picture entitled, "The Making of Old Glory." Those who have read "The Man Without a Country" will want to see it on the screen, so don't miss it.

The polls at the public school will be open from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday, October 8, and during these ten hours every voter in Dist. 63 is requested to come out and cast his or her ballot on the question of a new Central high school for Maine township. Of course one may use his own judgment on the subject but when the matter is given a thorough consideration and understanding it will be seen that the best solution to the high school problem is the erection of a new central building. Especially as at this time there is a chance for the disposal of the old building. It is your duty so be sure to come to the polls Saturday and cast your vote for the new high school. It will take but a few minutes of your time and yet it will mean everything to the younger generation who will not be able to crowd into the present high school for their education.

The regular meeting of St. Matthews Ladies' Aid will be held in the school hall Thursday, October 13, at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Gust Loedinger, Mrs. Wm. R. Moeller and Mrs. Hans Poehls will serve.

C. Bailing to Keep Up with Times and Take Life Easy

Chas. Bailing, of Wheeling Farms, says that it has taken him forty-four years to learn that there is something in life besides work. He says that he has had his share of hard labor and he is going to let the other fellow do that hereafter. In the meantime he is going to take life a little easier. He intends to be as free as the birds. When they go south, in the fall he wants to be able, if he is so inclined, to pack up and go also. Perhaps that is the reason that he will confine his future work to birds—squabs. He has leased the Wheeling Farms to The Sunnycroft Hatchery of Palatine, giving possession Oct. 17. He has always desired to raise squabs in large quantities. The demand has always been greater than the supply.

Mr. Bailing has been a good business man and he is proving himself a good father in that he raised no objections when his sons elected to take up other work than the "old man had been following." Chas. D. is taking up aviation in California. He is naturally a mechanic and is entering the game from the ground up. We can hear somebody say that aviators usually do that, but Chas. will learn all there is to know about airplane machinery before he attempts flying. The other son, Marshall is in his sophomore year at Illinois university, where he is specializing upon a course in journalism.

Mr. Bailing has had too prominent a part in the Wheeling business life to "get out from under" in a hurry, nor does he intend to. He is just going to enjoy life while he has the health to do so. "What is the use of saving up money if you have to spend it all in regaining your health when you are old. I am going to spend mine now," Mr. Bailing said those words with a smile, but he meant them just the same.

OUR WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Perhaps you have not noticed, but the pull of censorship has fallen over the candidates for the Presidential nomination. It is obvious, however, that the boards of strategy are quietly and effectively functioning in Washington and elsewhere. Experiences have shown that those who employ ballyhoo methods and engage in "stump" speaking are usually among those left at the post when the race for nomination is actually underway at the conventions. There have been times when Presidents would have given high ransom to have certain pre-convention utterances wiped off the slates. Hence the precautions at this time among those seeking the office.

With the President and his Cabinet meeting every Tuesday and Friday the rumor factory is busy turning out reports of resignations. Inquiry shows that the President's official cabinet will remain intact with possibly one exception. Secretary of Agriculture Jardine has been offered several attractive propositions in private life, one of which may be accepted.

There is a disposition on the part of the leaders of the major political parties to take prohibition out of the first class rating as a political issue. The opinion prevails here that in writing the prohibition plank, the farmers will be generous in their use of words so that the parties stand on the matter will be hazy and indefinite. Meanwhile the demand for reforms in the administration of the prohibition law has reached such a stage that each candidate for a "dry" officer's job finds that he must be thoroughly examined by the Civil Service agents before he, in turn, is authorized to investigate prohibition violations for the Federal Government. The Civil Service Commission after completing oral and other tests winds up its studies in a character investigation.

Though army engineers are putting the finishing touches to their reports on the Mississippi flood problem it appears that the attitude of business and banking organizations will do more to afford a speedy remedy than all the legislative action sponsored by Congress. Indications are that the rehabilitation work will be expedited by the continuation for another year of improvised credit agencies. A survey shows that the state credit corporations, the banks and other credit agencies in the affected states are willing to extend their helping hand for another year. The War Department is hopeful of obtaining the necessary funds for the construction of new levees which will withstand the onslaughts of the Mississippi.

Wood for Tobacco Pipes

The root used in making tobacco pipes and commonly called briar, is not the root of a briar but of a tree found near the Mediterranean in southern Europe. The name of the tree is the French word "bryer" and the English name briar is a corruption of the French word.

Early American Visitors

Besides the Norsemen, the Welsh are believed to have visited America before Columbus, according to Liberty. Madox, a Welsh chief, came to America and made a settlement in Virginia in the Twelfth century, according to tradition.

NEWS FROM OUR STATE CAPITOL

Representative Henry C. Allen, Lyndon, was named chairman and Senator Earl B. Searcy, Springfield, secretary of the storm relief commission created by the legislature at an organization meeting held recently in the offices of Governor Small. The legislature appropriated $50,000 which will be expended after reports to be furnished by the state department of public welfare and public health are considered.

The Fifty-Fifth General Assembly also voted $1,500,000 for the repair of levees in various parts of the state which were damaged by floods; this work is proceeding rapidly under the direction of Leslie Small, director of the state department of purchases and construction.

Illinois, which has been the leader in so many movements, can also be a leader in the great campaign to reduce fire waste if public officials and citizens will co-operate.

Fines collected by a justice of the peace for violation of the Motor Vehicle Act should be turned over to the county highway commission, Attorney General Carlstrom ruled recently.

Illinois reported 36 new cases of infantile paralysis to the United States Public Health Service during the past week. Massachusetts ranked highest in the reports with 106 new cases; Ohio was second with 89 new cases and California was third with 66.

Governor Len Small has promised to do "all possible" to start construction of hard roads in Franklin county in order to furnish work for the hundreds of idle coal miners in this section. The Governor's action came as a response to the hundreds of letters sent him by and on behalf of the miners.

The Pied Piper of Hamelin has reappeared in this modern day and age in the person of J. L. Nicholas of Atlanta, Ga., who will attempt to rid the Capitol City of rats. Mr. Nicholas claims to have killed 50,000 rats last year.

Chicken thieves and rural pilferers in Illinois will soon be a thing of the past when six organizations of state-wide prominence, the agricultural press and the Illinois department of agriculture, representatives of which recently held a meeting in the office of S. J. Stansard, director of agriculture, get started on an active working basis.

C. V. Gregory, editor of the Prairie Farmer, an agricultural publication, was elected president of the new organization. Alden Snyder, Montgomery county agricultural adviser, is secretary. He represents the Illinois Farm Advisers' Association.

Five plans to stop farm thefts, that the state Farm Guard committee recommends are the installation of burglar alarms, marking chickens with a registry number, filed with dealers and peace officers, organizations, improved marksmanship, and the enforcement of the poultry dealers' license law.

Hard road delegations from various parts of the state conferred with Governor Len Small last week regarding the early construction of highways provided for in the $100,000,000 bond issue. Early construction was asked on the road from Carlinville to Kampsville and the highway from Hillsboro to Greenville. A request was also made by Senator Richard Barr, Joliet, that the hard road at Crete, the home of the Lincoln field race track, be widened.

Illinois' new state penitentiary at Stateville, near Joliet, is already accommodating 500 more than it was built to accommodate, according to figures presented by Judge Chauncey H. Jenkins, former director of the state department of public welfare, in an address delivered in Springfield recently.

Even the railroad station in Arlington Heights is a thing of beauty surrounded by big trees and a fine park. A new station is being built right at the corner of Arlington Park.

Arlington Heights may well be proud of her educational facilities. The new school shown above is not only a beautiful building but an institution where the students gain a high school education of the finest kind.

Memorial Park is a beauty spot unexcelled in the entire Northwest area. Its great trees and fine lawn are typical of the town.

Arlington Heights is well provided with good churches—a strong recommendation for the kind of citizens who live here. This is the Presbyterian church and parish house.

Arlington Heights citizens are entitled to boast of their streets for there are none finer nor smoother. Here is another church, St. John's on Evergreen street.

Much more business will be transacted in these fine stores from now on. The race track, Avondale Super-Highway and Laudermilk's Arlington Park are destined to bring many customers to these progressive business men.

The new Arlington Heights Methodist Episcopal church and community club is another testimonial to the character of the citizens of this charming suburb.

"Convenient-Progressive-Beautiful"

and NOW

ARLINGTON PARK

The citizens of Arlington Heights are to be congratulated upon the beauty of their town. The giant trees, the carefully kept lawns and the wide smooth streets are indications of the interest taken by every resident in the appearance of their home town. The thriving, orderly business district impresses the observer with the progressive spirit of the Arlington Heights business men. Everyone seems to be doing his share to make this the finest suburb in the county.

"EVERYBODY Wins Here"

Just a few days before the opening of the huge $3,000,000 race track, and play place, and at the time when the great Avondale Super-Highway is assured, Bert H. Laudermilk comes to Arlington Heights to open his newest and finest subdivision, Arlington Park. This unusual property is located at the northeast corner of the Northwest Highway and Wilke Road, just across the street from the new Arlington Park station of the C. & N. W. Ry. In every way this property meets the requirements of the Laudermilk business principle:

"Exclusively the Best-Northwest"

Arlington Park is the liveliest spot in Greater Chicago today. It has been the scene of intense buying activity ever since Laudermilk arrived yesterday at the head of a huge parade from the Chicago loop. Nearly 100 automobiles, forming a procession a mile long and escorted by motorcycle police, took part in the trip to the opening of Arlington Heights' newest business, apartment and residence neighborhood. Something like 500 people attended, for the wise investors of Chicago know what is going on in Arlington Heights right now and they are hurrying to get in on this investment opportunity.

Visit This Fine Property

Come to the Laudermilk office on the Northwest Highway and introduce yourself. You will receive a hearty welcome. Anyone connected with the Laudermilk organization will be glad to show you the property, give you the amazingly low prices and easy terms, and tell you what is planned for it as well as what is being done right now to make it a community that Arlington Heights will be proud of. Arlington Heights citizens always will be favored guests at Arlington Park.

Even along the by streets of Arlington Heights beauty is not forgotten and giant trees often shade the housewife as she shops.

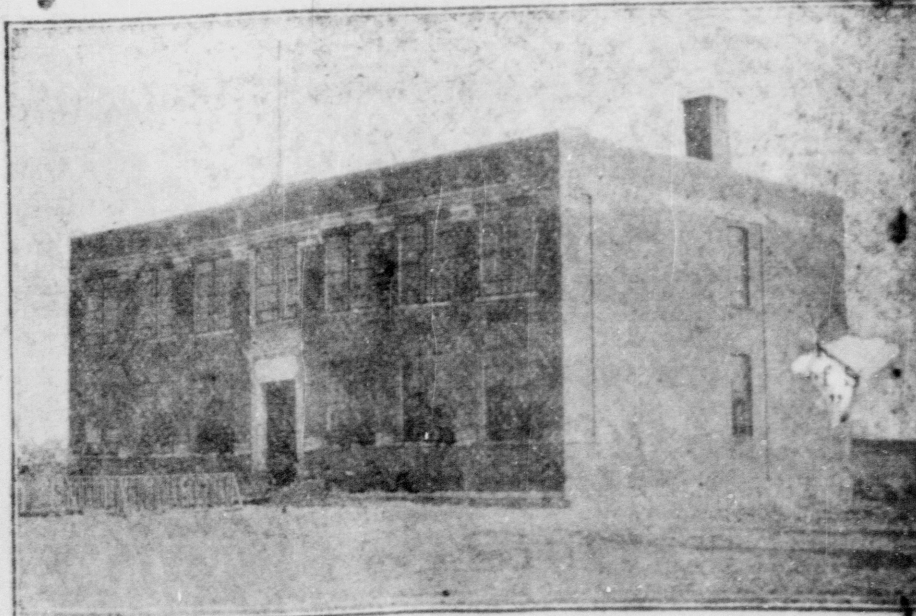

The visitor is impressed by the cleanliness of the business streets in Arlington Heights as well as by the attractive stores along them.

Only prosperity can cause a fine bank building like this one to be built in a community. Arlington Heights State Bank is modern in every detail and "safe as the Bank of England."

Tear out this page and keep it to show your friends five years from now, but don't let that time find you one of those who will say, "If I had known what was going to happen I could have made a fortune for myself."

This excellent new grade school will serve the children of Arlington Park—this fine new community in the making—as efficiently as it now serves other Arlington Heights youngsters.
